Briefs

This morning city councilmen asked City Clerk Lawrence Rose, Jr., to draw up a resolution requesting that District Highway Engineer A. M. Nash submit to the council location, design and plans for the interchange at Carpenter Street and Highway No. 1 for council suggestions and comment, before he submits it to the California State Highway Commission for approval.

The council will pass the resolution Tuesday night at its short special session called to welcome the student council.

We shall have actually a flotilla in Monterey Bay to assist Commodore Sloat retake California and 11 other western states for the United States of America on July 6.

Allan Knight just got the word. The Twelfth Naval District will provide:

Two heavy destroyers, the Preston and the Edson.
The U.S.S. Regulus, refrigerator supply ship.

The Alamo, landing ship dock. The latter is absolutely the newest. Since the Marines will land to take the custom house, what could be more appropriate!

As usual, there will be a 13-gun salute from the Bay and an answering salvo from the Presidio, and I shall try to find out what they use at the Presidio for answering salvos. I recall once seeing a cannon with a bronze plaque stating that this was used by the Spaniards in the year 1776. It didn't appear very practical.

All this Twelfth Naval District generosity with ships is not as difficult to come by as it would be if Commodore Sloat had made his landing in January or August. The ships arrive July 3 and help (Continued on Page Fourteen)

By RAYLYN PENNEY

A wee Scotswoman who entertained the Wright brothers at tea and once tossed Enrico Caruso his forgotten bundle of clean laundry just as the tenor's train pulled out, has written a poem on a timely Carmel topic: trees.

Writing what she calls "a bit of doggeral" and we call a good parody might not be so unusual if it weren't that Mrs. Lucile B. Graves deBey is 95 years old.

Garbed in a flame-red dress with matching pumps, and looking at least a quarter century younger than she is, she interviewed me the other night. She inquired about my age, my interests, my family. And when I worked in a question or two she confided that she was "Scotch to the backbone," but other than that, she "wasn't anything much of interest."

Enlarging on her apology for not being interesting, she said she had been born in Glasgow, the youngest of a full dozen sons and daughters of a journalist with the Glasgow Weekly Mail.

She was a small child when her father came to America on an assignment and stayed, living first in northern Michigan, then Chicago.

She married in Chicago, and after her husband's death, she took a job as director of the American Women's Club in Berlin, a position in which she was advisor and a sort of "mother confessor" to hundreds of young American women going abroad to study music, or as visiting teachers, or just as tourists.

Working closely with the American Embassy, Mrs. deBey (then Graves) also entertained at her club many of the luminaries of two continents.

She recalls among her guests of those days the empress of Germany, Geraldine Farrar, Paul Petri and of course Caruso, who "was a darling, that's the only way to describe him."

From Berlin, she traveled elsewhere, spending a season in Russia as the guest of one of the princesses of the czar's family, a woman she had known in Berlin simply as "Miss Reuss."

From solving the problems of well-endowed visitors—like finding the laundry for Caruso—this tiny lady (five feet two, and daintily constructed) turned her mind as easily to the quandaries of girls in Europe on a budget, calling up her Scotch probity and frugality (Continued on Page Thirteen)

Pine Cone Recommends Lloyd, Campbell For Carmel School Board

Tuesday five candidates will stand for election to two vacancies on the Carmel Unified School District Board.

The Pine Cone recommends incumbent Gordon Campbell, and Marjory Lloyd (Mrs. Frank Lloyd.)

They have both served the community and the schools for several decades. We know them and know what to expect of them.

Gordon Campbell can stand on his record as school board member and chairman. Mrs. Lloyd's experience in working with the schools gives her a background that will serve her well if she is elected; she is temperamentally well suited for committee and board work (citizens who have worked with her on committees are among her strongest supporters); she has both intelligence and good common sense.

Those who know Gordon Campbell and Marjory Lloyd as individuals require no recommendation from us. For the information of the new citizens, we believe the candidates' own campaign statements are the best possible introduction.

CAMPBELL'S STATEMENT:

I believe the purpose of education is to awaken and excite the minds of students; to develop and discipline those minds, and to train and develop their bodies so they may attain mental and physical excellence. This belief governs my general outlook in School Board matters.

I have served on the School Board for nine years, the last three years as its Chairman. Our schools have experienced explosive growth during this time. Problems in all fields have been complex. Nevertheless, the school system has maintained and extended its high scholastic reputation. Experience gained has proved most helpful.

I was in harmony with the entire School Board, a factor of some importance in getting things done (Continued on Page Fourteen)

Armed Forces Day Is Saturday, Also Friday On Peninsula

On Saturday the Army Language School will have a display at Fort Ord from 9:00 o'clock a.m. to 3:00 o'clock.

The gates at Fort Ord will open to the public at 9:00 o'clock Saturday morning. Simulated atomic artillery will be used when the combat forces endeavor to win against an aggressor attack. Radio messages will be flashed to battle group headquarters that the enemy forces have landed along the coast between Monterey and Marina. Demolitions, booby traps, dummy bullets and bombs will be used. The battle, a and demonstrations (Continued on Page Fourteen)

Public Invited To Hear Dr. Mason When Local Chapter Of Nature Conservancy Holds 1st Annual Meeting Wednesday

Dr. Herbert L. Mason, nationally known botanist of the University of California, will be the speaker at the first annual meeting of the Monterey Bay Chapter of The Nature Conservancy. The meeting, which is open to the public will be held at the library of the Carmel High School on Wednesday evening at 8:00 o'clock. Dr. Mason, who is on the Board of Governors of the national organization of The Conservancy, is the author of numerous books and papers on plants, especially those native to California. In 1936 he made a botanical survey of Point Lobos Reserve which was part of an exhaustive report, sponsored by the Carnegie Institution of Washington, on all aspects of the natural and aesthetic values at this newly created state park.

The Nature Conservancy differs from many conservation agencies in that it is not concerned particularly with halting the "urban sprawl," or with "outdoor recreation" per se, or even with spectacular scenery. It is believed that much has already been done to save the large scenic features and wilderness areas of our mountain regions. On the other hand relatively little has been done to save the less spectacular woods, grasslands, marshes, and deserts. It is (Continued on Page Seven)

Pilot Market	2	1
San Carlos Realty	2	1	1
Wilder & Jones	2	1	1
Turner & McEldowney	2	2	1
Boys' Town	2	2
Sport Shop	1	4

Art Carpenter's Pilot Market aggregation took over the top spot in the Carmel Little League during the second week's play by beating Wilder & Jones, 10 to 5, and pushed the plumbers into a second-place tie with the surging San Carlos Realty club. Pilots parlayed a four-hit pitching job by Tim Mosolf with homers by Jeff Knowles and pitcher Mosolf to upset the previously unbeaten W&J gang. Tim Fry also swung a big stick for the grocers, chipping in with four singles in four trips to the plate. Joe Fernandez pitched for the plumbers, giving up 10 hits and 5 walks. Greg Jones, W&J first-baseman, hit two-for-three to lead the losers in the hitting department.

San Carlos Realty after a loss and a tie to start the season came with a rush during the past week to notch a pair of victories. Jack Miller's crew clipped Boys' Town, 11 to 7, with Bobby Moffett pitching the win and hitting three doubles in four chances at the plate. Outstanding play for Boys' Town was Mike Bray's sparkling catch in center field which robbed the realtors of a sure home run. San Carlos continued its winning ways at the expense of the Sport Shop by blanking the Sports, 7 to 0, as Matt Little enjoyed a perfect 3-for-3 at the plate.

After a loss to San Carlos Realty, Boys' Town came back to even out its record at 2-2 by shading Turner & McEldowney, 5 to 3, in Tuesday night's interesting game. Both teams were limited to two hits as Gerald Pullen and Mike Bray for the clothiers, and Rich Wilkerson and Ron Berry for the bricklayers pitched outstanding ball. Mike Beard and Don Blanks were the successful hitters for T&M while Steve Trapkus and Andre Pashin connected safely for Boys' Town.

Don Canham's Turner & McEldowney squad turned on the power to whip the Sport Shop 12 to 2, with Rich Wilkerson and Jerry Olsen sharing the mound duties. Lawson Little and Ron Berry paced the winners at the plate, both getting two hits in three chances. Ron Mumford, Tim Peterson, Holly Garcia took turns trying to throttle the big bats swung by the T&M gang.

LITTLE LEAGUE FARM TEAMS

Derek Rayne	2	0

Special Delivery	1	1
Whitney's	0	1
Little Sparrows	0	2
Rockets	0	2

Little League Farm Team play finds Nikko's and Derek Rayne leading the pack with perfect 2-0 records after the second week's play. Nikko's clubbed the Rockets, 26 to 3, while Derek Rayne eked out a 16-12 win over the Village Inn. Special Delivery got on the win trail by beating Whitney's, 7 to 3, to even out its record at 1-1. This Saturday's Farm Team action puts Whitney's Restaurant against Derek Rayne at 10 a.m., Little Sparrows against the Rockets at 12 Noon, and Nikko's against the Village Inn at 2 p.m.

PADRES UPSET LEAGUE-LEADING GONZALES

Carmel High's varsity baseball squad avenged an early season defeat at the hands of the Gonzales Spartans in their last outing by upsetting the front-runners, 8 to 2, as Jim Brown pitched the win for the Padres. The Spartans edged Carmel, 8 to 7, the first time around and were favored to repeat the early-season win but the Padres were up for this one. With freshman hurler Jim Brown pitching steady five-hit ball and the infielders coming through with an errorless performance, the win proved to be an easy one for the Red and Gray squad. Gonzales hit the board in the first and third innings for their only runs as Brown's sinker and sharp curve had the Spartans hitting routing grounders to the infield. Carmel had a big six-run fifth inning, battling around the lineup as it parlayed four walks, two base hits, and a pair of sacrifice bunts into 6 runs. Bud Cunningham hit a double and single to lead the Carmel hitters while Ron Faia handled seven chances at his shortstop position.

Carmel's junior-varsity squad played the Gonzales Babes pretty even until the disastrous fifth heat when the visitors circled the bases for 10 big runs. Jayvee pitcher Forrest Cornwall was breezing along in good style until the fatal fifth when the plate started jumping around and he gave up 7 bases on balls. The Little Spartans threw in a couple base hits with the free trips to first and when Carmel finally got them out the score was 13-3 in favor of the valley boys. Rance Kastor provided the punch for the Little Padres, hitting a long triple and driving in two of the three runs registered by the local jayvees.

Both Carmel squads hit the road this Friday, journeying to

CARMEL HIGH THIRD IN CCAL TRACK MEET

Carmel High's track squad scored 35½ points in the Coast Counties Athletic League Meet at Salinas last Saturday and finished in third place behind Salinas with 76½ points and Monterey with 71½. The Carmel lads put in fine individual performances but the depth advantage enjoyed by Salinas and Monterey was too much for the Padre thinclads to overcome. Carmel's lightweight squad was blanked in the Big Meet, having failed to qualify a contestant for Saturday's finals. Monterey High won the lightweight meet, finishing six points in front of the Salinas Cowbabs.

Carmel's Phil White set a new CCAL record in the pole-vault when he topped the high stick at 12 feet 7 inches. The muscular senior also picked up a blue ribbon in the broad-jump as he outclassed the field with a jump of 21 feet 7 inches. Other point-makers for the Red & Gray were Frank Wallace, first in the half-mile; Pete Hanson, third in the half-mile; Al Dahlstrand, fourth in the high hurdles; Bill Harder, third in the low hurdles; Nick Vertin, tie for fifth in the pole-vault; and the third place relay team of Frank Mayo, David Farr, Bud Conroy, and Craig Smith.

First four places in the CCAL Meet automatically qualify for the North Coast Section Divisional Meet which is scheduled for the King City High track this Saturday morning at 10 o'clock. Contestants who place at King City go on to the North Coast Meet at Berkeley.

MERCHANTS CLIP BUILDERS IN OVERTIME SOFTBALL GAME

It took Paul Artellan's Carmel Merchant softball club two extra innings to down Butch Laugenour's Carmel Builders squad in an interesting softball tussle at Sunset Field. All locked up at 4-4 at the end of the regulation seven-inning period, the two clubs battled even until the top of the ninth when first-baseman Jack McGaughey hit a booming double to drive home Howard Simms with the winning run. winning double, McGaughey also stroked a pair of singles to lead the Merchant hitters. Manager Laugenour showed his charges how to hit the ball as he connected for three hits in five trips to the plate.

Red Hartsock, ace Merchant hurler, pitched a steady six-hitter as he struck out nine Builder swingers and issued three free trips to first base. Johnny DeAmara went the distance for the Builders, striking out ten and giving up four free passes.

The Merchants will be busy in the Peninsula Recreation Tournament for the next week. Winners of the 1958 Pre-Season Tournament, the Merchants are to be seeded in this year's tourney and drew a bye in Monday night's action. Tuesday night, the Merchants slugged out a 7-2 win over the Point Sur Naval Facility as Howard Simms hurled a solid three-hitter.

Bishop Of Wyoming Celebrates 46th Ordination Anniversary Officiating At All Saints' Confirmation Services

Officiating at confirmation services to be held on Sunday morning at 9:15 o'clock in All Saints' Church, the Rt. Rev. Winfred H. Ziegler, Bishop of Wyoming, (Ret.) will also celebrate the 46th anniversary of his ordination into the priesthood of the Episcopal Church.

Bishop Ziegler was born in Detroit, Michigan in 1885. His two brothers as well as his father, who was headmaster of a boys' school, were clergymen. He attended public schools in Detroit and, in 1911, graduated from Columbia University.

Bishop Ziegler's travels in the ministry took him to far places. In the frozen barrenness of Alaska his parish included seven Aleut villages and groups of Russians, members of the Greek Orthodox Church, whose priest had become insane. After three years of battling the snowdrifts and poverty of the area the young minister was transferred to the lumber town of Port Angeles, Washington, and the following year he and his wife travelled across country to Pennsylvania's mining town of Lehigh. During World War I the minister turned chaplain. He served on the Mexican Border and at Camp Custer, Michigan. There followed five years in Albuquerque, New Mexico, where he served, first as dean of the cathedral and then as arch-deacon of New Mexico. Transferred to Illinois, his 12 years of ministry included five as arch-deacon of Chicago.

The Rev. Winfred Ziegler was named Bishop of Wyoming in 1936. His many tales and anecdotes of his 11 years of service in Wyoming include the statement that in covering his domain he drove 62,000 miles each year. In 1947, the Bishop's activities seriously curtailed by arthritis, the family came to Carmel Highlands to live, and he retired officially in 1949. The Bishop gives much of his time and wisdom to All Saints' Church, while Mrs. Ziegler is an active member of the Women's Auxiliary. Their son George, who was ordained in All Saints' Church in 1949, is now rector of St. Mary's Church in Tacoma, Washington. George's twin brother Fred, and his elder brother, Paul, live in Wyoming where they are engaged in sheep-raising. Mary, the Ziegler's only daughter is now Mrs. Robert Jones and lives in Los Angeles. There are six grandchildren.

Lions Club Start Birthday Calendar Drive This Month

The Carmel Lions Club is undertaking the project of "putting a birthday calendar in every Carmel home," according to Dr. William Coughlin, member of the calendar committee. Proceeds of the sale, over and above expenses, will go to the Lions' youth activities fund. The Employer Group of Scouts have volunteered to assist in gathering names and subscriptions.

In addition to listing the birthdate of all members of the family of subscribers, the wedding anniversaries will be on the calendar, which will also carry the meeting days of service clubs, Scout Troops, Church clubs and other community events.

"Everybody in town will know when your birthday or anniversary is," says Dr. Coughlin. "But they won't know how old you are," he adds reassuringly. "It's going to be a lot of fun for everybody."

There will be space for 18 to 24 ads on the front of each calendar, along with a picture of one of the latest projects completed by the Lions. It will be a kitchen type calendar with large figures, and the names will be printed on the date designated.

"Cost of the calendar is $2.00, and any Lion or Employer Scout will be pleased that you get in on the fun and will accept your subscription, says Dr. Coughlin. "If not contacted and you wish to have your name on the calendar or just desire a calendar for your own information, send your name, birthdate and $2.00 to Lion Murle Og-

Mrs. Dennis Murphy And Mrs. Irving Die In Auto Accident

Mrs. Dennis Murphy and Mrs. Clifford Irving, both of Slate's Springs, were killed Friday night when the car Mrs. Murphy was driving overturned south of Pfeiffer Park entrance.

Susanna Justice Murphy, 28 years of age, the wife of novelist Dennis Murphy, was born in Berkeley, but spent many summers in Carmel, visiting her grandmother Mrs. Katherine Gorringer. She was known to her friends as "Pokey" and, interested in creative arts, was a popular figure in artists' and writers' groups. Her grandmother said that the family can only guess at what happened on Saturday night, but the opinion is that a deer leapt into the road and Pokey swerved too far, to avoid hitting it.

Mrs. Murphy leaves four young children in addition to her husband, her parents, Ashley Justice and Mrs. Katherine Short of Big Sur, and her grandmother, Mrs. Gorringer of Carmel.

Claire Lydon Irving was born at Stratford-on-Avon, September 1, 1930. She and her writer husband have resided at Slate's Springs since March, 1959. She is survived by her husband, Clifford Irving and her mother, Mrs. Elvire Lydon of London, England.

Funeral services were held Saturday at the Mission Mortuary.

Halle's Going To Coronado

Arne F. Halle, executive vice president and cashier of the Bank of Carmel, will attend the 68 Anniversary Convention of the California Bankers Association, May 17 to 19 at the Hotel del Coronado, in Coronado. Mrs. Halle will accompany Mr. Halle.

Psychiatric Society Meetings

The Northern and Central California Psychiatric Societies will meet here Saturday and Sunday. The Central California group will hold its business sessions at the Highlands Inn, Dr. Charlton G. Holland, Fresno, president, in charge. The Northern California Society will meet at Carmel Valley Inn with Dr. Fred Tetzlaff of San Francisco presiding.

Dr. Daniel Blain, director of the State Department of Mental Hygiene, will be the speaker at a joint meeting of the two organizations at Carmel Valley Inn, Sunday morning at 11:00 o'clock.

4 Year Old Pianist On TV

Accompanied by his teacher, Mrs. Ralph Weston of Carmel and his parents Mr. and Mrs. A. De Leos of Pacific Grove, four year old pianist Rene De Leos will go to San Francisco on Saturday to appear on television channel 7, KGO, in the King Norman variety program at 11:00 o'clock a.m. He will play especially arranged selections from Liszt and Rachmaninoff. Rene will also appear in recital in Carmel on May 24, sponsored by the Monterey County Music Teachers Association, in All Saints Church Parish hall.

Get A License For Your Dog In May And Save A Dollar

"Dog licenses are now being issued at City Hall," states City Clerk Larry Rose. "During the month of May a license costs $2.00. From June 1 onward the cost will be $3.00. It is essential that those seeking licenses bring with them the rabies certificate, the metal tag is not sufficient, it is the certificate signed by a veterinary that must be shown. It is not necessary to bring the dog."

At Monday's rabies clinic at the firehouse, Arthur Plaxton, deputy city clerk, sold 65 licenses.

WILSON WILDFLOWER PAINTINGS AT PG

The original wildflower paintings by Roland Wilson are now on display at the Pacific Grove Museum of Natural History. The paintings are the originals from Wilson's booklet Point Lobos Wildflowers. Wilson was for many years superintendent of Point Lobos Reserve State Park. His booklet is perhaps the best introduction to the wildflowers of the Monterey Peninsula Area. The paintings may be viewed from 10:00 to 5:00 o'clock daily except Monday. The museum is located at the corner of Forest and Central Avenues in Pacific Grove.

Floyd Harber

Beloved by hundreds of children in Carmel, as well as the adults who came in contact with him through his 33 years as a Carmel resident, Floyd Emerson Harber, age 53, died as he was dancing, on Saturday evening, while he was attending a party given by the Monterey Peninsula Square Dance Club of Seaside.

"I believe it is the way he would have chosen to go," Mrs. Vive Edquist Harber, his widow, told the Pine Cone. "Square dancing was to him much more than a hobby, it was a vocation, he loved people and music and fun."

Mr. Harber came to Carmel with his father in 1926. His first position was with the Carmel Cleaners. During the depression years he acted as custodian at Sunset School and for nine years was one of the young students' favorite grown-ups. From 1944 to 1958 Mr. Harber was associated with the Everett Smith Tree Service. Following his first heart attack, a year ago, Mr. Harber retired. A few weeks ago he started to plan a tool sharpening service.

Cause of Mr. Harber's sudden death on Saturday night was diagnosed by the attending physician as coronary thrombosis. Funeral services were held Tuesday in the Paul Funeral Chapel with the Rev. Charles H. Burrill and Dr. E. Leigh Mudge of the Church of the Wayfarer officiating. Burial was in the family plot of El Carmelo Cemetery.

In addition to his wife, Mr. Harber left three sons, Victor F. Harber of San Francisco, David E. and Arthur Harber of Carmel; a daughter, Mrs. Clarence Townley of Corralitos, and a sister, Mrs. Edith Hack of Nokomis, Florida.

Paul Clappett

Paul Hamilton Clappett, son of the late Dr. and Mrs. Frederick Clappett, died last Sunday, following a brief illness. Born December 8, 1899, Mr. Clappett was educated in eastern schools, but from 1910 onward he spent his summers in Carmel where his parents had taken a summer residence, and he and his brother Robert and his sister Connie (now Mrs. Martin Flavin) considered themselves Carmelites. Mr. Clappett graduated from the University of California in 1923, majoring in economics. His fraternity was Psi Upsilon. In 1939 he married Miss Ruth Pinkham of Kansas City and the young couple came to Carmel to live, until he went into the service for the duration of the war, and Mrs. Clappett lived during that period in Berkeley. They returned to Carmel in 1946.

At the time of his death Mr. Clappett his wife and two daughters, Paula and Jane, were living in Seaside. Funeral services were held on Monday in the Dorney and Farlinger Memorial Chapel.

Circle's Don Juan Is Challenge To Audience As Well As To Players

By VIRGINIA SHAW

One of the truly unique experiences in theatre is Bernard Shaw's Don Juan in Hell, and in presenting it the Golden Bough Players crown with laurels an already excellent reputation.

Certainly Don Juan cannot be considered "theatre" in the strict sense of the term: it is a conversation piece, pure and complex, employing few theatrical effects or devices. Shaw sandwiched this thick slab of verbiage into the third act of his Man and Superman; but its length (some 22,000 words) virtually precludes its use in the play, and has resulted in its presentation as a thing in itself.

So, as we have it, Don Juan is a sort of verbal gymnasium in which Shaw, with a zest and pungency hardly equalled anywhere else in his work, exercises most of his favorite ideas and causes—among them the Life Force, Superman, militarism, eugenics, socialism, aesthetics. Virtually every Great Idea of Western Man is given a gleeful working over, every sacred cow milked, every cherished idea held up to the unkind light of Shavian reason, with conclusions which are at times outrageous, often profound, and occasionally—in the shadow of nuclear warfare—more meaningful than even Shaw could have predicted.

One never forgets that it is Shaw doing the talking. But what he has to say is, for added interest, divided up between four variously notorious characters, more or less loosely borrowed from Mozart's opera, Don Giovanni. There is Don Juan, the arch libertine, here presented as the exponent of pure intellect and the Life Force; Dona Ana, whom Juan once seduced, a pillar of virtue but withal, the eternal feminine in her most subtle guise; the Commander, Anna's father who was done in by Juan while defending his daughter's honor, and who joins the party in the form of his memorial statue; and finally, there is the gracious host to this trio, the Devil himself, whose only wish is to make man eternally happy. The scene is Hell, where, for diverse reasons, Juan and Ann have found themselves committed, and to which the Commander, bored to distraction by Heaven, applies for a transfer.

The four characters have an eternity to pass away in conversation; Shaw gives merely a dazzling two hours of it, bristling with epigrams, pungent with wisdom, and spiked with devilish wit.

But converting two solid hours of talk—even such talk as this—into diverting theatre demands four unusually knowing and articulate discussants. Happily, the Golden Bough has assembled a quartet of actors whose taste and talent is beyond reproach.

Frederick Rider, who directs the production with great skill, is completely at ease in his virtuoso role as Don Juan, the misunderstood man of reason. Graceful and sparing in his gestures, using beautiful diction, he displays a finely disciplined technique throughout the entire demanding performance. Equally effective as the suave but cynical Lucifer is Brian Jarman, who underplays his picturesque role without losing any of its nuances. Alexa Morgan, a handsome and undeniably polished asset to the Players, is a superbly, haughty Dona Anna countering coolly the assaults on religion, morality and virtue made by her male colleagues in Hell—and getting the last word. Finally, we have Ted Kuster—as the marbelized Commander, and he plays the waggish old soldier with obvious relish and equally obvious skill.

The actors carry on their argument in formal dress, and in the simplest of settings: four music stands, four high stools arranged about the arena stage. Curiously, there is nothing static in either this arrangement or in the fact that the actors remain seated during most of the performance: when dialogue moves as rapidly and brilliantly as this, further action on stage is unnecessary, and even distracting.

Don Juan in Hell is a challenge to its audiences as well as to its performers; the greater the mental equipment brought to such an entertainment, the richer its delights. But on any level of appreciation, it is a rare treat; no TV spectacular, no wide-screen extravaganza, no arch comedy or leggy musical can equal the exhilaration of words and ideas manipulated with such wit, such style and such glorious disregard for conventions.

Don Juan will play again this Friday, Saturday and Sunday night.

JEAN FOWLER'S CARDS IN LIBRARY DISPLAY

Following eight weeks of weaving displays in the Crafts Guild's library case at the Harrison Memorial Library, the silk screened cards of Miss Jean Fowler will be on exhibit for the rest of the month.

Miss Fowler is an active member of the Carmel Crafts Guild, acting this year as corresponding secretary, and she will very soon open her own Studio Workshop where she will create and sell her hand-screened cards at Ninth and San Carlos.

A native of San Francisco, she returned there after taking her art training at The New York School of Fine and Applied Arts to work for Harry Camp Consolidated Millinery Advertising in layout and display design.

a glass of beer
is many things

There's always something new to see in San Francisco's fascinating Chinatown. It's one of the city's most unique attractions. And just as unique is a good glass of beer. Californians agree it's always a new, bright experience in refreshment.

And beer means something more than refreshment in California. To farmers, for example, it means better business. Last year alone California farmers received over $21 million from the Brewing Industry... just one more reason why beer means better living for Californians.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SERMON

Mankind's need for spiritualization of thought will be emphasized in Christian Science churches Sunday in the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Mortals and Immortals."

Bible selections will include the following from Philipianans (2:14, 15): "Do all things without murmurings and disputings: That ye may be blameless and harmless, the sons of God, without rebuke, in the midst of a crooked and perverse nation, among whom ye shine as lights in the world."

A correlative passage to be read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy states (265:5): "Mortals must gravitate Godward, their affections and aims grow spiritual, —they must near the broader interpretations of being, and gain some proper sense of the infinite, —in order that sin and mortality may be put off."

The Golden Text is from Romans (9:8): "They which are the children of the flesh, these are not the children of God."

Public Invited To Annual Meeting Of Nature Conservancy

the major objective of The Nature Conservancy to establish "nature preserves" where samples of these natural environments, once so widespread throughout our country, may remain free of destruction or alteration by the hand of man, and where all who are seriously interested in and sympathetic toward the preservation of these natural situations may go to study (or just enjoy) nature under such conditions without the fear of its imminent "improvement" or obliteration.

To this end Nature Conservancy has acquired, through gift and purchase in 18 separate projects, some 2,800 acres in six states. It has also participated financially in helping other organizations acquire some 6,000 acres in six areas in four states, the titles to which are held by various institutions or conservation agencies. The Conservancy is currently engaged in acquiring an additional 8,000 acres in some of the older preserves, as well as in new ones. It is also promoting the preservation of natural areas by other groups and preventing encroachments upon comparable reservations.

A valuable use to which a nature preserve lends itself is as a biological study area. It is highly important that scientists study the interrelations of all wild life under undisturbed conditions, and The Nature Conservancy encourages such use of certain of its acquisitions. It is also a tremendous help to biology teachers to demonstrate to their students just what goes on under truly natural conditions.

Steps have already been taken by the Monterey Bay Chapter to save a part of Garrapata Canyon which would serve both as a nature preserve and as a biological study area. It would be open not only to scientists and serious students of natural history, but also to all persons whose interests and activities are consistent with the principles of The Nature Conservancy.

*You hold a row of eucalypti close before your shutterless eyes, to exclude the right of desolation 'round about.
The other old homes have moved on by now,
or fallen prostrate in their weary sleep.
You are forgotten in your loneliness,
you feel; but scratched upon one window-pane—
while yet the sap was fragrant in your beams, two hearts with names, live reverberant and echo through your halls, — as mem'ry walks for-ever, searching on, from room to room.*

DESERT RHYTHM

*Cantlets of orbit melody float
Within the star-spangled canopy
Of your celestial sphere
Radiant with astral ritual
Of moonset and sunrise
On rainbow painted deserts.
Entombed in ancient mountains,

Lie fossil forms of ages prehistoric.*

—MARIAN S. PETRAY.

SYMPATHY

*Kind words build—in a cedar aisle
Upon a battered granite ridge—
Of aery gold and lustrous tile,
Through mist and snow, a friendship bridge.
They cross the miles to a birthplace,
A continent away,
Across all cultures, every race,
From where one stands today.
Soft words bear incense where they blow?
From cedars grown where giants fought.
No moving force of ice or snow
Could crush a gold-tile bridge of thought.*

—ARTHUR ROY WAGNER.

WIND

*O wind of Nova Zembla,
O snow-mantled wind of the Kara Sea:
Marble the trees with whiteness
Cover the low grasses with crystals of

Blow the candles of stars to darkness
Blow the moon away
Hurl the snow-demons
From the violet crevasses
Pull white waves of cold
Through the Gulf of Ob.*

LIBRARIAN'S NOTEBOOK

Ruth Galvin Thornburg, Librarian

Not long ago a small boy came to the Children's Librarian and asked for a book on how protozoa communicate. Unfortunately that is a book we do not have, but we will—sometime. One of our problems is the very young child who is more interested in the love-life of other humans than in that of the amoeba. This is a natural thing, of course, but we are faced with a real problem when this youngster demands a book on the subject which is much too advanced for him. In such cases our idea is that the parent is the final judge. If he wishes to take the responsibility and will authorize the child to have a certain book, we will give it to him, even though we believe it is a mistake. This authorization must be in writing and must list specific author and title. This authorization we keep on file here at the library. Then, like Pontius Pilate, we wash our hands of the matter.

Still on the subject of children, we have a new book by Dr. Morris Fishbein, who may not be the most famous doctor in the world but he is certainly the most voluble. This could be a very valuable book for people. Entitled Children for the Childless, the book discusses the family today, why some couples are childless, certain mental and physical remedies for childlessness, and the process of adoption. Another helpful book is Your Gifted Child by Florence Brumbaugh. There is much thought being given to the gifted child these days. He is being sought out and is receiving special training. This book helps the parent to find out if his child is especially gifted, and the steps to take after such a decision has been reached.

The final book from the pen of Thomas Mann is called Last Essays. Written in German, these essays have been translated into English by Richard and Clara Winston. The longest piece is on Schiller, and there are others on Goethe, on Nietzsche, and on Chekhov. The last pages of the book contain a list of Mann's works, both in the original and in translation.

After the Korean War, the Army made a five year study of the American prisoners of war and their behavior. They asked the question why was the communist indoctrination as successful as it was, in that 21 soldiers decided to remain in the enemy country? Why were American prisoners so brutal to each other? Why did so few of them attempt to escape? Why did so many of them die in camp? The results of this five year study are embodied in a book by Eugene Kinkead entitled In Every War But One. Read it.

In case the puppet show by Miss Blanche Tolmie served to increase your own interest in puppets, we have a new book entitled Puppets and Puppetry by Cyril Beaumont. It has nearly four hundred illustrations. Pictures of the puppets are accompanied by the story, which goes with them, and they make a charming whole.

There is new fiction, and a book on the drawings of Cezanne, and a book on birds, and another on Mexico, and, and, and...

Little Madame,
Monsieur, Daughter
Prove Big Hit

An artistic triumph and unique entertainment were the reward of Carmelites who crowded the Art Association gallery last Friday evening to witness Blanche Tolmie's production of The Comedy of the Washtub. So dramatically gripping were the actions, so colorful the voices that it was almost impossible to realize that the tiny figures on the tiny stage were not life size and entirely human. Blanche Tolmie has since 1918 been astonishing Carmelites with her versatility and talents. Actress, producer and director; hotel hostess, radio script writer and puppeteer, Miss Tolmie has through four decades delighted her Carmel neighbors with the ever fresh creations of her imagination and scholarship.

Friday evening's puppet performance was no spur of the moment jollity. The play was a 15th Century French Farce, translated and adapted by Miss Tolmie, who created the character puppets entirely by hand, endowing each tiny face with appealing individuality. Madame, whenever she had the good fortune to yank her head out of the washtub, was of vinegary countenance; her husband, given to long and ponderous speeches was lantern-jawed, while the daughter, the romantic creature, was pretty and flighty. The voices and action were produced by Blanche Tolmie as Madame, Carl Bensberg as Monsieur, and Pauline Benton as the Daughter. Mr. Jack James made a highly professional job of the lighting, sound effects and music, while the stage set by Nick Crookston and Geza St. Galy won congratulations on all sides. Nancy Johnson, Joyce Bishop and Margaret Shiply produced imaginative and colorful backdrops and the curtains were the handiwork of Hazel Crookston.

All in all, it was an "Old Carmel" evening, and what makes an old Carmel evening? Talent, fun, and above all, friendliness. —C.E.

to save them from avaricious landlords and shopkeepers.

In the vernacular, you would probably say Mrs. deBey "knew all the angles." It appears she still does. At 95, she moves about the world with as much ease as ever.

In recent years she has spent much time in Mexico, Nassau and Sweden, mostly with her friends, Swedish multi-millionaire Axel Wintergren and his wife.

Mrs. deBey knows the royal Windsors, says Barbara Hutton is really a "shy and modest person," called Konrad Adenauer "a lovely old man." (Yes, she apparently thinks of him as old.)

Her life when she is in Carmel is active, too. Living for the past two years on San Mateo Street, she entertains friends and makes frequent trips to her favorite spot downtown, the library.

She brings a basket—she's a rapid reader—and carries it home full of Mary Roberts Rhineharts, Erle Stanley Gardners, and such. ("At my age, I can read what I please.")

The San Mateo Street cottage, which glistens and glows with treasures collected from around the world, is also home for Mrs. deBey's niece, Mrs. Margaret Miller, who has accompanied her aunt on some of her happy wanderings.

About life in a cozy Carmel home for a lady who's lived in castles, mansions and the best pensions, the practical-minded Mrs. deBey quotes, "Ye canna expect to be bathe grande and comfortable."

The poem, which found its way to the Pine Cone, and fortunately led to its author, was written for Mrs. deBey's neighbor and friend, Mrs. Grace Howden, while Mrs. deBey was looking out her front window.

I wonder why God made that tree,
For it's as ugly as can be!
It stands right there in front of me
And nought beyond it can I see.

I've tried to lure the songbirds
there
With fruit and other luscious fare
But what the heck do the birdies care?
They keep on flying through the air.

But chickens come and roost at night
And in the morning—what a sight!
Leaves and droppings greet my eye
And I could just give up and cry.

And oft I lift my arms and pray
"Dear Lord, please take that tree away.
Since you could make and care
for me
I ask you, please, unmake that tree."

I live in Carmel-by-the-Sea
Where only God dare touch a tree,
And here's where I adore to be,

Mayers Leave for Summer

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Mayer left last week for Mr. Mayer's studio in Fishkill, New York, where they will spend the summer. Mr. Mayer is a sculptor. Mrs. Mayer, who signs her poetry Dora Hagemeyer, is one of Carmel's early residents and has served several terms on the Carmel Planning Commission.

Briefs . . .

the Peninsula celebrate July 4. Just the same, Alan Knight and the Navy League, who have been negotiating for months, are very pleased with what they have been assigned.

Yesterday afternoon the Carmel Arts Commission accepted its committee's report recommending an arts festival in 1960 and that there should be a co-ordinating committee of citizens to run it. The commission delayed approval of the suggested list of names for the co-ordinating committee.

Commission looked puzzled over a letter from Parker Hall suggesting that a new seal for the City of Carmel be designed and adopted. The city's seal has an outline of the Carmel Mission in the center. Parker Hall said that this implies a union of church and state. The Mission is not a dominant element of Carmel life, said Mr. Hall's letter.

The commission decided to let it ride for a month to see if there was a public demand to back Mr. Hall's request.

Carmel postmaster Fred Strong received a news dispatch today, and so did we, from the regional office, post office department, San Francisco, calling for bids for larger quarters for the Carmel Post Office. Specifications are the same as in the telegram from Congressman Teague which we printed in the Pine Cone two weeks ago.

Prospective bidder can obtain further information from Regional Real Estate Officer John McMahon, Room 723 Flood Building, 879 Market Street, San Francisco 2. (Why don't they have to run a legal notice of call for bids, and pay for it, like anybody else?)

With a flourish, Monterey dedicated El Cuartel Sunday, its new firehouse and jail building. El Cuartel is a low, sprawling, California type building under a big, sprawling California type oak. Carmel Mayor John Chitwood attended the ceremonies, and well he might. Carmel has a piece of the jail, $3,700 worth, which the city donated toward the $612,820 total cost of the building. This capital outlay contribution is part of a contract obliging Monterey to house Carmel's prisoners at $10.20 per day for the next 20 years, the daily rate to be opened for renegotiation in five years. So Carmel is assured of continuing for some time in its treasured tradition of keeping the grimmer aspects of reality out of sight.

Monterey, which has always kept our prisoners, has dealt very reasonably with us in this new contract, basing its charge on estimated costs and not levelling an emotional tax on us as it could have done, knowing how much Carmel does not want a jail of its own.

Though we hoot at them from time to time, most of us secretly regard the Montereyans as very good neighbors. —W.C.

SKOWRANS ARE HOSTS

Mr. and Mrs. William B. Skowran of Carmel Highlands, recently returned from Europe, played host to the Monterey County Chapter of the Hammond Organ Society on Sunday evening. The musicale featured Bud Iverson, a professional organist who came to the Peninsula from Albuquerque, New Mexico. Mr. Iverson's program included Boellman's Suite Gothique, Johann Strauss, and a number of popular compositions. Following refreshments there were organ-piano duets by Mrs. Dorothy Patterson and Neal Armstrong.

Pine Cone Recommends Lloyd And Campbell

for the schools. I have served on many school committees covering various phases of the educational process. I have an enthusiasm for education.

We have a fine educational system and able personnel. There are, of course, always opportunities for improvement. Such opportunities are constantly being explored through lay and expert bodies. For example, we have an Advisory Committee examining high and elementary school curriculums; a Survey Committee exploring population trends, future school sites and administrative efficiency; and studies, and proposed legislation, in progress concerning the creation of, or joinder to, a junior college system.

Residence here since 1914 has given me a general knowledge of community culture, attitudes, aspirations and economics.

With three children in elementary and high schools I have a personal stake in educational excellence.

I received my early education here. I graduated from both Stanford University and the University of Oregon Law School. I have practiced law for twenty-two years.

The following past experiences have aided me in tempering my opinions and judgments: Professor of Law, Szechow University Law School, Shanghai; member State Bar Agency charged with continuing education of California lawyers; Assistant District Attorney, Monterey County; United States Marshal for China; member of Bar, United States Court for China; Naval Officer World War II; Carmel City Councilman; past president Monterey County Bar Association; Carmel Library Board member; past commander Carmel American Legion. I am, and for several years have been, on the Board of Directors, Peninsula Community Hospital. My school and hospital work are my only present outside activities.

LLOYD'S STATEMENT:

As a prospective trustee, I consider prime revenue expenditure for the Carmel Unified School District should be:

1. Superior teachers, able to arouse learning interest, guide and develop pupils in responsible learning attitudes, even though they teach in inadequate classrooms using minimal teaching aids. To obtain such teachers, salaries in this district must be high enough to eliminate tempting offers from other areas, meet the cost of living in this community.

2. Simple, safe school buildings with enough classrooms so there are no double sessions, no elementary grade class exceeding 25 pupils in size.

3. Excellent teaching aids, materials and equipment, particularly for science instruction and the mastery of reading and the fundamentals of mathematics.

4. Administrators capable of maintaining harmonious relations with all school personnel, students and parents.

5. Adequate maintenance staffs, as good upkeep of school property is an economy.

6. Sufficient clerical help to free teachers from duties which hinder teaching programs.

7. Junior college education for Carmel district students obtained by this district being included in a junior college district, preferably county wide as this proposal provides greater educational scope for tax money.

With remaining revenue, to the fullest extent possible, I advocate spending for an able counseling staff beginning at the junior high level; specialists to aid children blocked from learning at any grade level; institution of a foreign language program in the elementary grades; addition of courses beneficial to high school students' programs as demand arises; establishment of a thoroughly correlated curriculum program from elementary through high school and junior college; sound health, recreation, sports and physical education programs; expansion of music and art courses.

My active experience in education includes three years as a teacher, 23 years as a parent of four children in the Carmel School system. This amounts to 51 pupil years of working with students, teachers, administrators and parents.

As a PTA member for the same number of years I have worked to build and improve the Carmel school system by aiding bond drives, obtaining a high school for the district, addition of courses to high school curriculum.

I have been room mother, PTA program and publicity chairman, vice president in charge of the high school group, representative on the adult board of the Carmel Youth Center.

I was a member of the committee which advised the board on qualifications necessary for teacher tenure in this district, receiving and transmitting parents' opinions as their representative. At present I am a member of the committee implementing appraisals of the high school made by the California Association of Secondary School Administrators. I have been a member of the book selection committee of the Carmel Library, and the board of directors of the Monterey County Symphony Association.

The other candidates: Dr. Richard Snyder, Mrs. Alphonse Elsen and John Melville have had full coverage in the Pine Cone as they announced their candidacy. Any of them might make excellent school board members; but we do not have to guess in the case of Marjory Lloyd and Gordon Campbell. They have proved their worth and ability in their previous service to the community.

—Wilma Cook.
